No action was required, but she asked the Board to read through the memo and think about the Council Committees that could benefit from input from the Library Advisory Board. Teri noted that the Sports, Recreation, Arts and Cultural Development Committee's work plan does include the library renovation capital project. This committee is comprised of Council members Mark Mitchell (Chair) and, Onnie Shekerjian. Parks and Recreation Manager Mark Richwine is the staff liaison.

Agenda 4 - LEAP Team Overview—Clay Workman, Technical Operations Supervisor

Teri introduced Clay Workman, who is overseeing the LEAP Team (Library Experiences Amazing the Public). Clay stated the LEAP Team's mission is to create an extraordinary customer service experience for patrons of the Tempe Public Library.

Clay informed the Board that the Leap Team was started in April and is comprised of eight Library employees, both supervisors and front-line staff. Their charge is to create a patron centered model of service; create a system that fosters a team approach for service at all levels; and to use technology when possible to enhance services and improve efficiencies

In the course of their work, they have studied best practices of other libraries and have taken field trips to Scottsdale and Glendale libraries. The team has also conducted extensive research, and members have attended classes and seminars on changing models of library customer service. They are currently reviewing the library's policies and procedures, and will be crossing training staff in the new service model. The team has also been involved in library design meetings to insure that the remodel works effectively with the new service model. One of their goals is to have the Library seen as a place not only for information but a center for transformation as well.

Agenda 5 - Library Remodel Update

Teri mentioned that City and Library Staff had two days of intensive meetings with the project architect from Engberg Anderson. The goal is to have the design development phase completed by the end of November. She also mentioned the City is in the process of evaluating
